

KraneShares FTSE Emerging Markets Plus ETF

Investment Strategy

The KraneShares FTSE Emerging Markets Plus ETF (BATS:KEMP) is a gross domestic product ("GDP") weighted fund that includes China A Shares and China N Shares. Country allocations are based on five year purchase power parity GDP forecasts by the International Monetary Fund. China A Shares are Chinese equities listed on the Shanghai or Shenzhen stock exchanges. China N Shares are China equities listed on the New York or NASDAQ stock exchanges.

Why Weight by GDP?

- A country's weight within a market capitalization weighted index may diverge significantly from that country's share of global GDP
- Developed Markets often trade at a multiple to their respective GDPs while emerging markets often trade at a fraction
- Weighting by GDP, as opposed to market capitalization, increases exposure to larger economies

China Share Classes Matter

- Older emerging market funds historically limited their China investment universe to Hong Kong listed Chinese companies only.
- KEMP's China investment universe includes onshore China (A-shares), U.S.-listed Chinese Companies (N-shares), and Chinese companies listed in Hong Kong (H-shares).
- The Onshore Chinese markets consist of the Shanghai and Shenzhen stock exchanges, which are the fourth and eighth largest exchanges in the world respectively, with a combined market cap of $8.94 trillion.¹
- China N-shares include some of the largest internet and E-commerce companies in China. These companies choose to list in the United States to attract a greater international investor base.

ETF shares are not redeemable with the issuing fund other than in large Creation Unit aggregations. Instead, investors must buy or sell ETF Shares in the secondary market with the assistance of a stockbroker. In doing so, the investor may incur brokerage commissions and may pay more than net asset value when buying and receive less than net asset value (NAV) when selling. The NAV of the Fund's shares is calculated each day the national securities exchanges are open for trading as of the close of regular trading on the New York Stock Exchange ("NYSE"), normally 4:00 P.M. Eastern time (the "NAV Calculation Time"). Shares are bought and sold at market price not NAV. Closing price returns are based on the midpoint of the bid/ask spread at 4:00 P.M. Eastern Time (when NAV is normally determined).

Index returns are for illustrative purposes only. Index performance returns do not reflect any management fees, transaction costs or expenses. Indexes are unmanaged and one cannot invest directly in an index.

Investing involves risk, including possible loss of principal. There can be no assurance that a Fund will achieve its stated objectives. The Funds are subject to political, social or economic instability within China which may cause a decline in value. Fluctuations in currency of foreign countries may have an adverse effect on domestic currency values. Emerging markets involve heightened risk related to the same factors as well as increased volatility and lower trading volume.

The ability of the KraneShares FTSE Emerging Markets Plus ETF to achieve its investment objective is dependent, in part, on the continuous availability of A Shares through the Fund's investment in the KraneShares Boserer MSCI China A Share ETF and that fund's continued access to the China A Shares market. The Fund may invest in derivatives, which are often more volatile than other investments and may magnify the Fund's gains or losses.
