KraneShares MSCI China ESG Leaders ETF

Investment Strategy:

KESG seeks to track the MSCI China ESG Leaders 10/40 Index. The MSCI China ESG Leaders 10/40 Index aims to provide exposure to companies with high Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) ratings relative to their sector peers. The MSCI China ESG Leaders 10/40 Index consists of large and mid-cap companies in China. In order to ensure diversification, the Index is designed to limit individual constituent weights to 10% and sector weights to 40% of its composition.

China's ESG Highlights:

- Chinese domestic investors and issuers are moving fast to incorporate ESG considerations in their decision making, driven by strong regulatory initiatives to promote ESG practices and disclosures.
- China's commitment to stricter environmental mandates and conservation efforts is necessary to achieve national goals of sustained economic growth. Consequently, China now is the world leader in total renewable energy capacity, at approximately 30% of total global capacity¹.
- China's economic and technological transformation drives demand for a more educated workforce. In recent years, many Chinese companies in knowledge-intensive sectors have improved their talent programs, which has in turn upgraded their MSCI ESG Rating.
- Greater inclusion of China's capital markets internationally creates more of an incentive to align shareholder rights and governance policies with global standards, paving the way for Chinese companies to develop a more diversified shareholder structure.

KESG Features:

- MSCI China ESG Leaders 10/40 Index inclusion criteria has a track record of effectively identifying growth companies within China's new economy.
- As companies with high ESG scores have proven to consistently outperform their peers in China, investors do not necessarily have to compromise returns for investing based on beliefs.²
- Benchmarked to the MSCI China ESG Leaders 10/40 Index: MSCI is the #1 index provider for ESG, Socially Responsible Investment (SRI), and Corporate governance indexes according to a 2018 survey of 1,300 participants conducted by SRI Connect and Extel.

What is the MSCI ESG Investment Philosophy?

- According to MSCI, when it comes to ESG investing, the objectives of investors tend to converge around three main principles¹:
 - Integration: Investors have been looking at ESG factors to better manage risk and attain long-term sustainable financial performance.
 - Personal Values: ESG based investments allow investors to better tailor their portfolios to reflect their own ethical, religious, and political beliefs.
 - Positive Impact: Some investors focus on the greater impact their investments have on the world. Such investors are particularly interested in companies that are working toward solutions to current environmental and/or social issues.

Improved data and analytic capabilities have helped make the ESG investing process more systematic.¹

The Chinese consumer's focus on sustainability is also driving more Chinese companies to adopt ESG practices.

- Global trends show that as a consumer's disposable income increases, their demand for more sustainable products also increases.
- At present, 61% of Chinese consumers show a strong preference for quality products, which is considerably higher than the global rate of 49%.¹
- With the Chinese population becoming more health and safety conscious, their affinity for quality products is becoming stronger. These better-quality products are also desirable because they are an expression of status.¹
- As the Chinese middle-class continues to expand and disposable income increases, demand for ESG focused companies is projected grow.
